MOONEY TRIAL IS READY FOR JURY

Closing Arguments Began Just As Court Ordered Adjournment Taken For the Day--Lawyers Row.

Before the sun sets today Thomas J. Mooney will know his fate. That the case will reach the jury before nightfall is certain, as the closing arguments began yesterday.

One of the most peculiar phases of the trial is the fact that neither the district attorney nor his associates will take part in the closing arguments. This task is to be left entirely in the hands of M. R. Jones and J. J. Barrett, attorneys hired by the Pacific Gas & Electric Co.

Attorney Lister will make the first argument for the defense and will be followed by Attorney Johnston, while the closing work will be done by Attorney McNutt.

The defense closed yesterday afternoon with the testimony of Hurley, who proved a good witness for Mooney. So good, in fact, that his testimony aroused the ire of J. J. Barrett, who sneeringly asked: "Have you not been adding these men who go about destroying the property of the Pacific Gas & Electric Co.?"

McNutt was to his feet in a second and declared the question to be "rank, cowardly and rotten and designed to prejudice the jury."

The fulminations between the two attorneys became heated and at last Judge Barber intervened to restore order and caused the exploded query of Barrett to be withdrawn and the jury admonished to give it no heed. M. R. Jones opened the arguments for the prosecution by arraigning Mooney for giving a false name, shaving off his moustache, going without work for five months and having the fulminations in his possession.

Leslie Oliver was called as a witness for the prosecution and gave expert testimony relative to high explosives. It was with Oliver on the stand that the prosecution secured a very strong point. The defense had made the statement that Mooney and his associates had putty and oakum in the boat with which to stop it leaking. Barrett seized this opportunity to inquire of the witness if putty could be used in the manufacture of a high explosive.

Oliver replied that the highest explosives were made with the use of putty. Barrett was quick to take advantage of the opening given him by the defense.

Robert Callender, in the employ of the Richmond Gun Club, stated that he met Mooney and his associates just before they landed at Point San Pablo and while engaged in conversation with them, observed that their boat was leaking badly and contained about ten inches of water.

He advised them to use putty and oakum to stop the leaks and suggested that they go into Richmond and secure some to fix their boat. He saw the two boxes and some boards floating in the water in the bottom of the boat. In reply to questions of Prosecutor Barrett he stated that he saw a suit case, which had been admitted in evidence, on a seat in the bow of the boat.

Callender was placed on the stand as a witness for the defense after the prosecution rested. He made an excellent witness for Mooney and when Barrett took him in hand for cross-examination he went hammer and tongs.

He failed to shake the testimony of the witness, however, outside of securing the admission that the suit case was seen in the boat.

Experiments are to be made with the explosion of caps to test their qualities and for the purpose of reconsideration of the jury. Attorney Maxwell McNutt of the defense magnanimously offered to secure the caps from Leslie Oliver, witness for the prosecution, to prove his contention that the caps are not high explosives.

Michael O'Keefe, another witness for the defense, testified to the leaky condition of the boat.

Edgar I. Hurley, the next witness, who as secretary of the Electrical Workers' Union, told of his experiments made with the fulminate of mercury exploded of the kind alleged to have been found in the baggage taken from the boat of the accused. He minimized the explosive qualities of the caps and declared they did no more damage than a pistol cartridge.

CONSTABLE GREGORY ON ROAD TO RECOVERY

Reports from the bedside of Constable J. H. Gregory are to the effect that the crisis in the condition of the popular official has been reached, and that from now on his rapid recovery is expected. The stricken official, barring any unforeseen complications in the case, will soon be about his official duties again.

Miss Spomm of Sacramento, who has been visiting at the home of A. J. Meindersaa, returned to her home in the Capital City yesterday. The two Meindersaa boys, John and Edward, journeyed to Sacramento with Miss Spomm. They will spend several days on a visit there.

CLEANUP THE PASSWORD HERE

Weeds Must Go, the Ultimatum of Superintendent of Streets Welch, Who Will Force the Campaign.

START NEW CRUSADE AGAINST WOODEN POLES

Health Officer Blake Advises All Local Residents to Swat the Fly and Keep on Swatting.

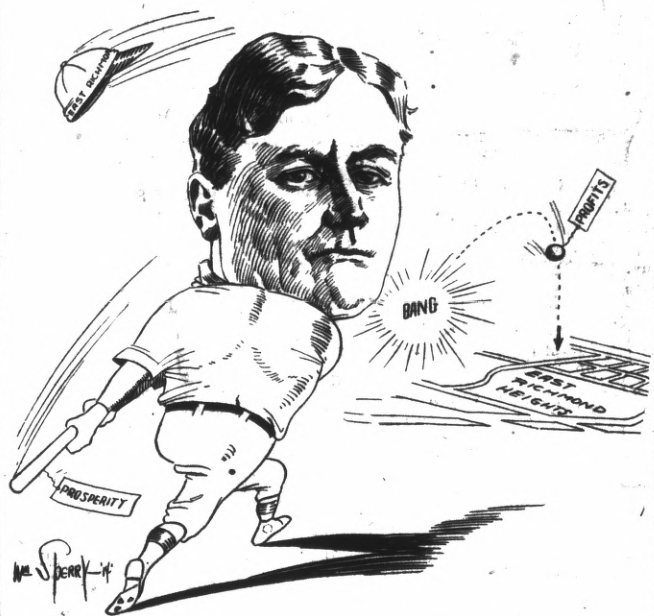

Richmond will be a spotless city and the most pleasing in general appearance of any municipality on the coast, according to plans that are being made by the various officers of the city. City Superintendent of Streets Welch, Health Officer Blake and Councilman Picton are all planning cleanups along various lines.

Welch has handed down the dictum that weeds must go, and go within ten days. Property holders are given ten days in which to clean up their yards and dispose of all weeds. Unless the property holders do this work within ten days it will be done by the city. But, although the city may be compelled to do the cleanup work, that does not relieve the lax property holder of the financial obligations incurred. If it becomes necessary for the city to clean up the weeds and yards, the expense incurred in the work will constitute a lien against the property, and payment will be forced. This can be done under a state law, and Welch declares he is willing to go the limit in seeing that the city is properly cleaned.

Councilman Picton has started a movement to remove all the wooden poles on Macdonald avenue and Twenty-third street, where the Oakland Traction plans to double track, and to have them replaced with steel poles. Picton, along with hundreds of others, is of the impression that wooden poles are unsightly. All progressive cities have steel poles, and it is probable that an ordinance compelling the installation of steel poles will be presented at the meeting of the City Council Monday night.

Health Officer Blake has sent out a circular to local residents, in which he says it is time to get busy. Not only does he ask the public to make every week cleanup week, but he urges an aggressive campaign against the fly. Dr. Blake cites the fact that every fly swatted now means millions less to swat next summer. The astounding fact is pointed out that a pair of flies, starting housekeeping now, barring accidents, will have 125,000,000 descendants in September. By the removal of all fifth he claims that sickness can be reduced (Continued on Page 3.)

BATTING ONE THOUSAND IN BOOSTERS' BALL TEAM

D. W. McLAUGHLIN

At the meeting of the Contra Costa Chamber of Commerce, in Martinez, a short time ago, some one from Byron asked who it was that put "Rich" in Richmond. He was introduced to Major D. W. McLaughlin.

Out Twenty-third street way he is called the "Little Napoleon." Not because he is of the same stature or has the habits of the great little general, but because, where the real estate sales are the thickest you can always find the Major.

Right now he is engaged in boosting Each Richmond Heights. He has boosted so much and so often, that the Heights are rapidly becoming the property of others, and a waste of a few years back is becoming a muchly prized residence section.

There is only one thing ailing the Major at the present time and that is the fact that Mayor Ludwig refuses to call the harbor celebration date. When he does there will be one Twenty-third street resident who will be heard from.

DIRECTORS OF BUILDERS EXCHANGE ARE ELECTED

That interest is not waning in the newly organized Builders' Exchange, but on the contrary is steadily increasing, was shown at the meeting of the body held last night at Barton Hall, Tenth and Bissell. Although the two previous meetings of the builders and contractors were well attended, the attendance last night was the best up to date. Over thirty of Richmond's prominent contractors and builders were in attendance, and all took an active part in the deliberations of the body.

After a great deal of close balloting the ten directors of the organization were selected. They follow:

J. I. Collins, J. H. Bruce, T. H. Burton, F. A. Pinger, John Gerlach, T. S. Hanley, C. H. Johnston, Charles Renwick, E. B. Rendall and D. T. Reynolds. These directors will elect their own officers and in conjunction with these officers will take the executive lead in carrying on the business of the organization. Eugene A. Marshall officiated as presiding officer at the meeting.

Next Wednesday night the contractors and builders will hold another important meeting in Barton Hall. It is expected that every contractor and builder in the city will be present at that time, as matters of pressing importance are to come before the body.

DOUBLE TRACKING CONTRACTS ARE BEING LET

An evidence of how the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways are going to proceed with the double tracking was shown last night, when the City Council held a brief session. It was announced that contracts had been let with various contractors calling for the tearing up of 500 feet of pavement per day for a width of thirteen feet. The road is to be of standard construction and the repairs will continue without interruption.

John Nicholl had two communications regarding Richmond avenue. He wrote the council that he wanted to make a beautiful boulevard of that avenue and was going to install nine parkings, each fourteen feet long by seven feet in width. He asked that the People's Water Company be made to lay water mains before the pavement is put in.

He also asked that heavy teams be made to come through the municipal tunnel instead of along Richmond avenue. Both were filed.

GETS SIXTY DAYS FOR THREATENING A WOMAN

For threatening the life of a local widow, whose name has not been disclosed, Stanley Hyde was yesterday given a sixty-day sentence in the county jail at Martinez. Hyde pleaded guilty to the charge placed against him. He is reported to have entered the woman's home, where he demanded food. When it was refused him he became abusive and started to threaten. The timely arrival of the officers resulted in Hyde's arrest.

STOLEN MACHINE IS FOUND HERE

H. Sweet, an Oakland resident, yesterday positively identified the automobile found standing at the corner of Wall street and Macdonald avenue by Officer Munday, as his machine. The car was stolen from in front of the First Christian church in Oakland on the night of Thursday, April 2. It is thought that a party of joy riders appropriated their automobile and drove it to Richmond, where they were forced to abandon it on account of engine trouble.

JUMPS FROM BOAT TO DEATH

Remains Found Floating in Bay Near Stage Were Those of Berkeley Youth Drowned Last Month.

MOTHER SWOONS WHEN SHE IDENTIFIES BODY

Went on Excursion With Friends and Fearing Craft Would Tip Over, Henry Johnson Jumps Overboard.

"It is Henry," sobbed a woman at the mortuary chapel of E. B. Smallwood yesterday afternoon, and those three words removed forever all doubt as to the identity of the unknown man, whose body was found floating in the bay one mile from Stege.

The remains were those of Henry C. Johnson, 19-year-old son of Mrs. Matilda Johnson, 2486 Shattuck avenue, Berkeley, and a clerk employed by the Standard Oil Company in its Oakland office.

The identification of the mother followed that of H. B. Truitt of Oakland, friend and boon companion of the deceased, and who was with him when he met his end.

Truitt unfolded the story of an accident to a fishing boat near California City on March 14, which resulted in young Johnson's death.

According to Truitt, the dead man, in company with P. S. Chattock of Alameda and himself, left Sausalito on Saturday night, March 14, bound on a fishing and camping trip. They had a small, frail rowboat and went to the cove near California City.

On the following Sunday morning they started to fish. When they rowed quite a distance out into the bay, the craft struck a rock and began to sink. Johnson lost his head and plunged overboard. Truitt states he tried to rescue him, but the drowning youth did not come up more than once.

Truitt and Chattock then rowed back to Sausalito and notified the coroner of Marin county. The lad's mother was also told. Descriptions of the dead man furnished the clue whereby the friend and mother came here.

The funeral will take place today from the chapel of the Oakland crematory.

Politics Barred From Club

By an overwhelming vote, which followed a heated debate, the members of the Progressive Club decided on Tuesday evening to keep its hands off politics entirely, and will devote its energies to civic affairs solely.

The question was brought up Mrs. Donald E. Pryde, a member who is running for the seat on the Board of Education. Mrs. Pryde and her friends endeavored to obtain the endorsement of the club.

This provoked an animated discussion, which continued for some time before being put to a vote. Some were in favor of endorsing candidates, but the majority ruled against it.

As a result none of the members can expect to go to the polls carrying the banner of the club.

EIGHT YEARS SEPARATION ENDS IN RICHMOND

Mother and son embraced one another for many moments at Ferry Point yesterday, the result of a meeting after eight years of separation. The son was Fred Castle, a Sausalito baker, and the mother was Mrs. J. C. Borune, wife of the foreman of the steam shovel gang now working on the improvements for the Santa Fe terminal.

Eight years ago the boy departed from a little Minnesota town because he felt, like numerous other lads, that the household duties were too strenuous and that he could do better in the outside world.

The West lured him and he came to San Francisco, with visions of rapidly accumulating wealth and a return visit to his parents in years to come. He came West, but it was the same old story. There was nothing but trials and tribulations in his path, and the modest job of baker finally was adopted.

In the meantime the mother married Borune and together they traveled about the country, wherever his work called him. Days rushed to weeks, weeks to months and these to years, and the mother and son lost track of each other.

Castle became 28 years of age. He longed to see his mother and the idea struck him to insert advertisements in the various papers. He did so and was surprised one morning to hear that she lived in Richmond. Yesterday he came to see her and his anxiety to find her abode led to the story leaking out.

"I find you are the best old friend after all," was the greeting which Castle gave his parent, and the two were overwhelmed with their joy.

BETTER BABIES.

It may not seem at first blush as though there were any very close connection between libraries and babies, since the latter are not able to read, and are usually more interested in milk bottles than literature, but Samuel H. Rinck, the live wire who has charge of the public library in Grand Rapids, Michigan, has discovered that a library, and a public library at that, may prove a very useful aid to better babies. How? Well Librarian Rinck keeps a record of the names of the mothers the birth of whose offspring is daily recorded under the "Births" in the papers. He promptly mails to each mother a list of the books in the library bearing upon the duties of motherhood, how to care for children, how to nurse them, how to clothe them, etc., and invites the mothers to make use of the collection as they may see fit.

Hundreds of mothers have taken advantage of the novel but very sensible idea, and the result is that many mistakes that might have been made by innocent but ignorant mothers have been avoided. The idea is one of the best we have ever seen for the utilizing of a library and we suggest to the local librarian and to State Librarian Gillis, who is ever ready to take advantage of every new idea, that they might take up the Rinck idea and put it into practical effect here at home.

We would suggest, however, that the good work should not stop with offering useful literature to mothers only. A great deal of good could be done if the sphere of activity were extended so as to embrace women who are about to become mothers. A preventative is better than a cure, and there is no question but that the mental condition of the mother during the months before birth has an effect upon the child just as much, and perhaps even more so than the physical. If a woman will read what is elevating, intellectual, and along the lines she would like to influence the child, undoubtedly she can go a long way towards securing the end she seeks. If she, for instance, be given to music and the whole surroundings are as musical as possible the child is more than likely to show decided musical talent.

There is also a lot of information besides the question of psychology and heredity that a mother could read with profit during that period, and if she only knew how and where to get it, if she only knew, as many women do not, that such works exist, she would be greatly helped in the important duties that are so soon to be hers.

There is of course the difficulty of finding out who is in need of this class of literature, but through the doctors, nurses, and by frequent suggestions in the papers, a large number of women who now know nothing of such matters could be reached, and later the news that such books were available would spread and the work for better babies would progress.

We believe that plan is one of the best and wisest that has been suggested along the line of improving the human species. It is far more practical and sensible than teaching eugenics to half grown boys and girls, or passing pure marriage laws, or a variety of other nostrums which have been popular of late but are now, we are glad to note, going into innocuous desuetude, where we trust they will remain forever and ever, Amen.

THE FLY AS A DISEASE CARRIER.

The News has on a number of occasions urged the citizens of Richmond to take up a crusade against flies, and perhaps some of our readers may have fancied that we were giving undue prominence to an unimportant subject. That we are not undue alarmists however, has been shown by a case that has just occurred in Sacramento, a case that might easily happen in any other city of this state, or anywhere else for the matter. Here is the story: The cousin of a baker was taken ill with typhoid fever. He was sent to a hospital, but as soon as possible got out and came back home living in the same house as the bakery. Flies from his room flew continually in the room where the bread and cake was exposed for sale, and the health department had every reason to believe that a dangerous epidemic of the dread disease was about to break out and Sacramento has had a great deal of typhoid the past winter. To avoid any possible contamination the bakery was closed, fumigated, the bread and food all destroyed and the whole place thoroughly cleaned, and the sick man sent to the hospital where he belonged. It is thought that those prompt measures will have sufficed to stop the spread of the disease.

But the point that is of interest to the rest of the world is that it was discovered by careful watchfulness that flies were flying from the sick room to the bakery, and that the bread under microscopic examination had been contaminated wherever they lit. No doubt the bakeries, the butchers, and the other providers of food in this city take every possible precaution to protect their stock from unhealthy attacks, but how can any man tell all the places that a fly may have visited before it reaches your food. Who can say whether the fly that you see walking over a piece of butter, or flying around the milk can, or alighting on the meat, has not just come from the room of a consumptive, a fever patient, or from feeding on some matter contaminated by them?

But of course the danger is not confined to the dealers in food supplies, in fact they probably are far more careful than the average housekeeper and you run less danger from the food you buy than from the food that has been some time in your house, uncovered and open to flies. The more uninviting a substance is the more likely a fly is to enjoy it, and therefore even among the most careful people the danger is not entirely eliminated unless the fly is entirely eliminated. That is not hard to do, and the city council in ordering the purchase of seventy-five fly traps to be operated under the supervision of City Physician Blake has taken a step which places Richmond well to the front among the most progressive municipalities of California.

NOMINATIONS SHOULD BE PUBLIC.

There really never was the slightest reason why the confirmation of executive appointments by the Senate should be made in executive session, which is nominally secret. We say nominally because as a matter of fact what is done in executive session was published as broadly and was as well known to the world at large as anything that occurred in Congress.

Probably the first Congresses established the executive rule when appointments were being considered simply because the members did not want to speak out and give their objections to the nominations, but today the fight against objectionable nominations is usually made in committees so that what happens on the floor is simply pro forma.

But aside from that nominal protection which an executive session gives the timid senator, there is the right of the people whose servant the President and the Senate are selecting to know what manner of man they are getting. If there is any reason why the appointment should not be made, that reason should be made public so that all the world can know whether the President is performing his duties satisfactorily and making appointments is no little part of the duty of the President.

If, on the contrary, as has happened a great deal of late, the nominations are made of incompetent men simply for political reasons, that fact should be known, and if the Senate holds up the nomination simply because the nominee has not pleased Senator X. in some unimportant local matter, or Senator Y. is opposed to him because the senator wanted some other henchman of his to get the job, then the public should know that also, because now that the people elect the senators directly themselves, they should not be uninformed how their representative is behaving himself.

That treaties should be considered in private or behind closed doors is evidently a wise plan, and that certain questions, such as a declaration of war, had better be made in secret session, so that the discussions and any particular facts would not become known to the enemy, is of course self-evident, but there the secret session should stop. The more the people know what Congress is doing the less likely it is not to do what it should refrain from doing. Too much secrecy is a very bad thing in a public legislative body in a Republic.

CELEBRATING THE HARBOR APPROPRIATION.

When the news comes from Washington that the President has signed the harbor bill and that this city has received the money it needs to begin work on its harbor, there should be a celebration that should make the rest of the State sit up and take notice. There is no better advertisement for a community than a celebration of that character and if it is properly managed and conducted there is no reason why it should not be an enormous success.

As it is the creation of a harbor which is to be celebrated the fête should be held on or near the water. Something along the lines of the water carnivals they have at Belvedere or Santa Cruz. Special rates should be secured so that we may have a large number of our neighbors in San Francisco, Berkeley, Oakland and Alameda here, as also our friends from other parts of this county and from the upper part of the state. The festival should occupy all day and there should be something doing every hour of the day. If Richmond has that kind of festival it will give her a great boost all over the country, and there will be many magazine articles in the Eastern publications which will be a splendid advertisement for the town.

The Sequoia Club should take up the celebration at once and plan to have it as soon as the news comes from Washington that Richmond's harbor is assured. While of course the date is uncertain, as Congress, or rather the Senate, may not take up the harbor and river appropriation bill for a long time, yet all the general details can be arranged now, and then when the news comes a week at most is all that will be necessary to complete the final details of the program and invite the world to be Richmond's guest.

We are soon to have a flood of gush in the papers about a young man whose only claim to notoriety and fame is that he is a multi-millionaire, and that his great-great-great-grandfather sold skunk skins a century ago in New York. Really important events will be passed over with half a dozen lines, and many weddings of people far more interesting and important than Vincent Astor will not receive a line. And yet we deny that we are given to adoring wealth and acclaiming its possessors.

The last rain has given the farmers all the moisture they need, and now good crops are assured. Never was there a brighter prospect for any community than California faces today. If no unforeseen event like the great earthquake occurs, this commonwealth should have eighteen months of the most marvelous prosperity that any section of this mundane sphere ever enjoyed in a similar time in all history.

The announcement of Zapata, the so-called revolutionist of Southern Mexico, that he will crucify the Bishop of Chalapa on Good Friday if he does not pay an enormous ransom for his liberation, is evidence of the kind of men who are running the southern rebellion. It is with men of that type that this government proposes to treat as though they were civilized men and not savages.

President Huerta has sent an American consul home because he wired to this government that Torreon had been taken, which Huerta denies. It is a pleasure, however, to be added that the insult to the consul has not disturbed the equanimity of the administration and Secretary Bryan will still continue to give Chautauqua lectures at $300 per lecture.

The occupations of a secretary of the navy are so trifling in this administration that the present occupant of that job is able to report congressional proceedings for his newspaper during the dull afternoons.

Richmond has a lot of work to do to prepare for the thousands of visitors she is going to have next year. It is an encouraging sign that she has begun to realize that fact and is already beginning to brush up for reception day.

THROUGH TRAINS ON SANTA FE IN 1915

SAN BERNARDINO, April 8.—
Through Pennsylvania system trains will be run to the Pacific Coast via the Santa Fe in 1915, according to reports here, started by the visit of W. W. Atterburg, vice president of the Pennsylvania system, to Southern California. Atterburg, the operative head of the big Eastern railroad system, reached here today in a special train, accompanied by T. De Witt
Cuyler, a Santa Fe director, and A.
G. Wells, Santa Fe general manager of the coast lines.

The officials took an automobile trip through the San Bernardino valley, from which comes a vast amount of the traffic of the Santa Fe and Pennsylvania systems. It is said the Pennsylvania system is seeking a direct outlet to the coast for 1915, and the Santa Fe and that company have been closely allied for years, even to the extent that annual rumors are started of a move to consolidate the two.

DESERTER IS RETURNED TO MILITARY OFFICIALS
Fred H. Neeley, captured recently by Officer Phillips, who is alleged to have defrauded Proprietor Mc-Intosh of the Golden West Hotel out of $90 and who is a deserter from the army, has been returned to the Presidio at San Francisco. Neeley confessed to desertion in 1913. Officer Phillips will claim the $50 reward offered by the government for the capture of a deserter.

BIG BRICK PLANT MAY SOON BE OPERATING

Rumors that the big plant of the Central Brick Company, located on the line of the Belt Line Railroad, was to reopen, caused quite a stir along the streets yesterday. This plant has been closed for five years, but at one time was the largest plant of its kind on the coast.
The rumors seem to have their origin from the fact that two chemists paid a visit to the plant a few days ago and took some samples of the clay there. It is said that their report will decide whether or not the place will resume operations.

Do you know we are giving you the profit made on paper. Say a 25-cent paper we give you for 12c. Why? Because we don't pay any store. We have sample books from one of the leading wall paper firms in San Francisco. Select your paper one day, get it the next. All we want is to hang your paper. Now figure with us. You will be surprised the saving. Just imagine the money made on wall paper. You get this. We paint also. Guarantee to mix all paint on job; use nothing but lead and oil or Acme prepared paints. We run no coal oil wagon. Mr. Contractor, think this over. Your reputation is at stake. If your painting fails in say a year's time. Bad isn't it? IN THE SOCIAL WHIRL

"Y" CLUB TO MEET.

Next Tuesday evening the "Y" Club will hold a social meeting at the Wesley Methodist church. As a good time has been arranged for, it is expected that the entire membership of the organization will be present.

MATRON TENDERED SURPRISE.

Many of the friends of Mrs. A. B. Childs tendered her a surprise party at her home on Golden Gate avenue Tuesday night.

Those present at the party were Mr. and Mrs. A. McMaster, Lyra Freeman, Bertha Floyd, Altha McMaster, Mr. and Mrs. E. Jackson, Mrs. T. Freeman, Mrs. K. Floyd, Miss Tranter, Freeman, Bernice Barnes, Mrs. C. T. Gilmore, Mrs. M. McMaster, G. Kane, Elsie McMaster, Elsie and Ethel Freeman, George Cheney, Willie McMaster, Russell Floyd, Vera Childs, Fred Childs and Hattie Freeman.

TO ENTERTAIN CHURCH WOMEN.

The women of the First Methodist Episcopal church will be entertained Friday evening at a social to be held at the home of D. Cox on Castro street, on the west side.

BLUE BELL CLUB PLANS DANCE.

Members of the Blue Bell Club are laying elaborate plans for their dance, which is to be held in Pythian Castle on the night of Friday, April 4. Committees, that will be announced later, are working hard to make the affair a success. Tickets for the dance are meeting with a ready sale.

EPISCOPAL CHOIR MEETS AND REHEARSES.

In order to prepare for the Easter services and music of the Episcopal church Sunday morning, the choir of the church met Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. E. H. Harlow and spent some time in rehearsing. The choir for the services is composed of Page Harlow, Jack Parks, W. D. Baker, Clyde Baker, E. Taylor, G. Guest, Mrs. C. Hunt, Mrs. C. Young, Miss Isabelle Greathouse, Miss Musetta Hopkins, Miss Helen Raitt and Miss Vera McElrain.

LOVE SECTION TO GIVE SOCIAL AND DANCE

"Love comes first." At least it does in the local Fraternal Aid Association. Next Tuesday night the "Love" section of the association is planning to give a ten-cent social and dance in A. O. U. W. Hall, to which the public is cordially invited. A committee consisting of Mrs. G. W. Williamson and H. A. Edwards is arranging for the party. At the present time a contest is going on in the Fraternal Aid. The membership of the order has been divided into four sections as follows: Love, Charity, Friendship and Justice. Very naturally the Love section comes first in the giving of its entertainment. The entertainments of the other three sections will follow shortly after the affair of next Tuesday night.

NATIVES SMOKE, SING AND TALK

"Some night," said all the local Native Sons as they wended their way homeward last evening, after the cessation of festivities in Sequoia Hall. And it was some night; the kind of a night the Native Sons always have when they decide to go in for an evening of fun.

Concluding the business of the evening, which was disposed of in short order, the members present settled themselves for the scheduled smoker. Between the inevitable talkfest and music of every description, and several fast boxing contests, interest in the proceedings were kept at a high pitch until final adjournment came at a late hour.

At the business session several applications for membership were presented.

RODMAN CLAIMS MILK REPORT IS WRONG

Published reports emanating from the office of Health Officer Blake to the effect that the milk of the restaurant located at 303 Macdonald avenue is watered, have aroused the ire of T. C. Rodman, the proprietor. Rodman declared that his milk is not watered, and like Proprietor Duesdiecker of the Richmond Hotel, demands an apology or a public retraction.

Dr. Blake asserted at the council meeting Monday night that Rodman's milk was found to be poor. The health officer stated at that time that when he examines samples of milk and puts them under a chemical analysis that he does not know where the milk comes from until the analysis is concluded.

The Health Commission, at the request of the City Council, will take up Duesdiecker's complaint in regard to the report, at an early date, and it is probable that at the same time Rodman's case will come up for consideration. The outcome of the matter will be awaited with interest by Richmond residents.

WILL VOTE ON PLAN TO PUT IN BUFFET

Whether or not a buffet will be installed in the club rooms of the Sequoia Club will be decided Friday night, when the members present at the regular club meeting will ballot on the proposition. A secret ballot will be taken. As the matter is one of utmost importance to the club, every member is requested to attend.

The matter of installing a buffet in the club rooms was brought before the directors of the club recently. A committee consisting of Dr. C. R. Blake, H. H. Turley and I. R. Vaughan was appointed to look into the matter.

BONUS CAUSES TUNNEL WORK TO PROCEED AHEAD SCHEDULE

An evidence of what really happens when an employer agrees to loosen the purse strings a bit and let the employee get for his labor just what he earns, is shown in the case of the municipal tunnel, which today is 57 feet ahead of schedule.

Mr. Shattuck of Shattuck & Edinger decided to offer the men working in the tunnel 50 cents per foot for every foot over the necessary five feet, which constitutes a day's work.

The result was beyond belief. Nearly every day a foot or more of excavating was done. Then Shattuck offered the foremen 75 cents for every foot their men excavated over the schedule. They helped out and everybody is happy in the tunnel family.

Both of the lower drifts have reached a depth of 275 feet. Yesterday a small steam shovel appeared on the scene, which will be used to excavate the core. Another big steam shovel is due almost any day and will be put to work at the south portal.

This shovel will excavate an approach 660 feet long, and will be the road running from the mouth of the tunnel to the municipal wharf. It is expected that from the north entrance of the tunnel to the end of the roadway will be 880 feet.

The company is now employing ninety-five men, but will put an additional fifty men at work as soon as the excavating for the southern approach is begun. The dirt, taken from the southern approach, will be used to build the roadway to the wharf.

CALFEE HEAD OF CAMPING OUT EXPEDITION

Twenty-one local young Americans are having the time of their lives departing and camping in the hills back of Grand Canyon Park, under the chaperonage of Rev. D. W. Calfee.

The party left last Tuesday with enough provisions to last for a week. Blankets and bedding suitable to a camp were also taken along.

Rev. Calfee is a great exponent of outdoor life, and when he announced that he proposed to father a camping out expedition, the boys received the glad tidings with enthusiasm. Camp will be broken late in the week.

WIDOW SUES TO SECURE PRICE OF AUTO

Mrs. Elsa U. Arnold, widow of J. C. Arnold, who recently was given judgment for $30,000 against the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railroad, for the death of her husband in an auto accident at Stege last April, has begun another suit against the road.

This time the widow asks for $675 damages, alleged to be due as a result of the wrecking of the automobile in which her late husband was driving at the time of the mishap. It is stated in the complaint that the car was purchased only a few days previous to the accident.

GREAT PROGRAM AT RICHMOND THEATRE

Professional tryouts in vaudeville will be seen at the Richmond Theatre today and five reels of motion pictures.

Elizabeth Orchard, a clever violinist, appears in the vaudeville numbers in some good solo work, and has only to draw her bow across the violin strings to win her way with the audience.

Charles Colburn entertains his audience with monologue impersonations and some clever dancing.

Eckhart and Daniels present themselves in a comedy burlesque magic novelty. They come well recommended and present an act that is good in every line.

"Rork's Drift," an Edison two-reel drama, is a story of the Zulu war, in which Richard Tucker has the lead. This picture will appeal to those who have a fondness for the spectacular.

"Thou Shalt Not Kill," presented by the Selig Company, has some vigorously handled scenes that will hold the audience.

The Vitagraph Company presents "The Old Oak Secret," a drama of merit.

"Sophia's Imaginary Visitors" is a good comedy produced by the Edison Company.

KANDY KIDS PLAN BIG DANCING SATURDAY

Another of the popular monthly dancing parties of the Kandy Kids will be held at East Shore Park next Saturday night. Local dancers by the score are planning to attend the affair. One of the features of the evening will be the music. Candy prizes will be given the young women who are the holders of the winning admission tickets. A number of new and novel plans that cannot help but please will be but into execution.

MERCHANTSWANT RENTS LOWERED FOR WORKERS

That an effort is to be made to have the rents lowered in the city is evident from the talk which is going the rounds of various employees of the manufacturing plants in Richmond. It is claimed by many that decent home, when $15 per month is all that can be afforded by a man earning $2, $2.25 and $2.50 per day.

Many of the workmen now residing in Oakland and Berkeley have been asked by merchants to make their homes here. They claim that after paying rent, the grocery bill, fuel, lights, butcher and their clothing and shoe expenses that they have nothing left.

There are many who assert they are anxious to move here providing the rents are lowered. They point to the fact that they have gone to the nearby cities because they were unable to stand the rents. The merchants are to make an investigation and see what can be done.

LANG SHUTS OUT ATHLETIC CREW

By a score of 5 to 0 the Richmond Giants showed their superiority over Peres' gang of Athletics in a game played Tuesday afternoon on the First street grounds. Although the score was one-sided, the game was by no means as uninteresting as the score would indicate. Lang, pitching for the Giants, pulled himself out of several tight holes, when it looked as though the Athletics would score.

The battery for the Athletics was O'Brien and Robertson, while Lang and Prouse were on the points for the Giants.

ASK NEW TRIALS FOR CONVICTED PAIR

Threats on the part of the I. W. W. organizations that unless the authorities immediately grant a new trial to "Blackie" Ford and Herman Suhr, recently convicted in Marysville of the murder of District Attorney E. T. Maxwell of Yuba county, a boycott will be declared on the hop fields during the present season, are being made throughout that section of the state today.

Under the direction of the "Hop-pickers' Strike Committee," the first steps toward the boycott have been taken with the issuance of notices containing the general demands of the dissatisfied laborers.

"There will be no hops picked in California during the season of 1914 unless the following demands are met with," is the ultimatum of the "strike committee." The demands are:

That Ford and Suhr be given a new trial and their cases dismissed.

For a minimum wage for hop-pickers of $1.25 per hundred.

Free tents for pickers.

Free water in the fields.

Extra men to assist women pickers in loading baskets on wagons.

Certain general sanitary conditions in the fields.

No bonus payments.

High pole climbers.

Widespread agitation has commenced with a view of perfecting a boycott by the time the hop-picking season opens in the fall.

During the past seasons the great army of hop-pickers, men, women and children, who have gone into the fields of Yuba county in the vicinity of Marysville, Wheatland and Woodland, have been recruited from all parts of the state. I. W. W. agitators have sought from time to time to organize the workers. Last August occurred the tragic riot on the Durst brothers' ranch near Wheatland, when a posse of officers, headed by Sheriff Voss and District Attorney Maxwell and two others, were slain. Subsequently "Blackie" Ford and Herman D. Suhr were arrested and tried for the murder. They were tried before Superior Judge Daniels, found guilty and sentenced to life imprisonment.

Since the trial the I. W. W. forces have been working relentlessly to bring about a new trial and for the release of the prisoners.

BASEBALL YARNS SCRIBBLED BY "FANATIC"

When the Alameda Alerts, one of the fastest teams in the bay section, lock horns with Greathouse's Richmond Club here next Sunday, local fans will be treated to one of the choicest baseball morsels of the season. The home guards are peeved over the loss of last Sunday's session with the Redwood City Club and are confident they can come back strong against the Alamedans. Whether this is so or not remains to be seen. It is futile to try to prognosticate (get that prognosticate? Noah Webster nearly had a fit when he coined the word, and we have a fit every time we use it) over the outcome of a baseball game, and we don't do it any more, but those Richmond boys are going to put up an awful battle.

Billy Osborne, former Richmond ball tosser, has won himself a regular berth in the lineup of the Chico Club in the Trolley League. Osborne will handle the difficult corner. In the pre-season games with Chico he has showed up to good advantage. Osborne was with the Modesto Reds last season.

EAGLES MIGRATE TO FRUITVALE AERIE

Over two score Eagles of the local Aerie journeyed from here to Fruitvale last night to be present at the anniversary exercises of the neighboring Aerie. The trip was made in a special car chartered for the occasion. The local Eagles enjoyed the hospitality of their neighboring lodge, and helped them celebrate their eighth anniversary in a fitting manner. The special car arrived back here late last night.

DEAN TRIAL SET FOR TUESDAY THE 14TH

Patrick M. Dean has been charged with disturbing the peace by Officer Sam Wright, and the old troubles between the pair, which started when the patrolmen arrested Dean some time ago, are to come up again.

The case will be heard by Police Judge Lindsey and as both sides have a large number of witnesses the hearing promises to be interesting.

The date of the trial is Tuesday, April 14. Dean intends to try and show the officer was wrong.

SEQUOIA CLUB TO GIVE BANQUET FRIDAY

Another of those popular get-together banquets of the Sequoia Commercial Club will be held in Sequoia Hall tomorrow. The luncheon will start at 12:15 and the festivities will continue on until the afternoon. The same price that was charged at the last luncheon of the club will be in vogue tomorrow. Thirty-five cents is all it will cost you to attend the banquet, and hear some eloquent addresses tending to the development of Richmond.

The lunch will be served by the women of the First Christian church, who have earned an enviable reputation as caterers for such affairs.

A number of five and ten-minute talks will be given by well known local citizens, who have valuable boosting ideas that they will advance.

One hundred guests were present at the last monthly get-together banquet of the club, and extra plates had to be set for several of those attending. The good accomplished at the banquet has been plainly evident throughout the past month, and without doubt the banquet room will again be crowded Friday.

RETURNS HOME FROM TRIP TO FATHERLAND

Guido Pacini, former owner of the Hotel D'Italia, returned to Richmond yesterday, after a five months' visit to his fatherland. He renewed his acquaintances with many local merchants and Richmond residents and expressed himself as surprised at the growth of the city.

PHILPOTT OPENS HIS BRANCH STORE

With a complete stock of everything in the shoe line on the shelves, the new branch store of Stanford B. Philpott, located at 156 Washington avenue, was opened to the public yesterday. The store was accorded a good patronage, and undoubtedly will build up one of the biggest businesses in the city.

BEN BRIGNONE IS NOW HOTEL MAGNATE

Ben Brignone, the owner of the Colombo Hotel, has purchased two other hotels on the west side and is rapidly assuming the appearance of a hotel magnate. The hotels that have passed to his management are the Franklin House and the Walborg Hotel, both on Standard avenue, and they handle the majority of the rooming house trade of the employees of the local refinery.

TEN DAY SENTENCE FOR PETTY LARCENY

John O'Neill, who landed in the toils of the law Tuesday night, when he was caught by Officer Phillips emerging from the Monteverde Hotel, on Standard avenue, with a hat and a pair of shoes that belonged to some one else, plead guilty to a charge of petty larceny before Police Judge Lindsay yesterday morning, and was sentenced to serve ten days in the county jail.

GOREFFO BATTERY CASE UP TUESDAY MORNING

Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock has been set as the time for the disposition of the case of H. Goreffo, charged by his wife, Matilda, with battery. The accused man is at liberty on $250 bail. Mrs. Goreffo claims that her husband mistreated her several different times.

After being confined to his home for several days on account of an injury caused by falling off a ladder, H. G. Stidham, west side real estate man, is able to be up and around again.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kubister are back from San Francisco, to which place they removed a short time ago. They live in the same place, 1930 Barrett avenue.

Mrs. B. Ogborn, prominent club woman of this city, is confined to her home at 315 Nevil avenue, Ill. It is hoped that she will soon be out.

A. Stiefvater of Modesto, brother of J. Stiefvater, a west side grocer, is a business visitor in Richmond.

DIETRICH INSTALLS A NEW CASH REGISTER

Frank C. Dietrich, well known jeweler of 140 Washington avenue, has installed what he claims to be the best cash register in Richmond. The register, which was purchased but recently, is giving entire satisfaction, and although it is a high priced article, Dietrich asserts it is worth every cent he paid for it.

PLANNING DANCE IN PYTHIAN CASTLE

Plans for the dance to be given by the local Pochontas Lodge on April 18 came in for a thorough discussion at last night's meeting of the lodge, held in Pythian Castle. The dance will take place in Pythian Castle. A committee, consisting of Mrs. O'Rourke, W. F. Patton and Mrs. J. L. Waddingham, are arranging for the affair, which will undoubtedly be one of the season's social successes.

Plans are also being made by the lodge for a big class initiation to be held on the night of Wednesday, April 29. At last night's meeting four applications for membership were received. At the conclusion of the meeting the degree teams practiced.

CLEANUP CITY

to a minimum. The health officer asserts that if any resident of Richmond knows of any unsanitary condition and has any complaint to make, that the matter will be immediately attended to by calling up or visiting the health office.

Part of the statement made by Dr. Blake follows:

Time to get busy. Now is the season of civic unattractiveness. With the passing of our winter there comes to light in the public streets and private property the accumulated filth and litter of the winter months.

Civic pride, and more than all else, civic health, demands action now—not thirty days hence. The city authorities charged with the responsibility of maintaining the city streets in a cleanly, sightly and healthful condition, are now working full blast and occupants of property and owners of vacant lots must recognize their responsibilities with respect to the condition of their premises and without official prodding, they should immediately proceed to place themselves right with their city, their neighbors and themselves. There is no valid reason why unsightly conditions should be permitted to haunt themselves in the public face until we would be compelled to have a so-called "clean-up week." When unclean then is the time to clean up.

The good citizen, the clean neighbor, will not wait for a "clean-up week." If this city can boast of many careless, dirty citizens, then a hurrah, clean-up campaign will be necessary, but I hardly think it will be necessary, for Richmond to advertise itself as being so dirty that it was compelled to have a "clean-up week."

TRACK PRACTICE POSTPONED.

The track squad of the local high school, who were to hold a secret training practice at the East Shore oval yesterday, were unable to do so on account of the weather. The practice will be held the first possible day this week that the weather will permit.

How people lose their money

By concealing it about their person; by stowing it away in mugs, jugs and jars; by sewing it up in skirts and ticks; by tucking it under the couches and carpets, in cupboards and bureau drawers. These are some of the ways by which people lose their money, and sometimes their lives.

How people save their money

By depositing it in a good, reliable bank. Confident that this bank fully meets the public's needs, we tender its services to all who believe in keeping on the safe side.
